

SNEAK PEEK

Be the first to see the redesign of www.NIGC.gov

We are proud to announce the redesign of www.NIGC.gov. As you will see in this sneak peek it is a completely new look, design & feel. We hope that you will find it much easier to navigate and to get the information that you need from the NIGC.

Some things will change at launch time as we fine tune our content. Our goal however is to bring content to you in an intuitive, consistent, professional and contemporary manner.

In the redesign, the navigation controls are on the top and they expand when clicked to bring you addition detailed information. There is also a "breadcrumb" trail along the top left of the page, so that you will always know where you are within our site.

One key feature is a site map on EVERY PAGE! You will notice that there is a site map at the bottom of every page for quickly jumping from section-to-section. This should make finding information a quicker and simpler process for you.

We have been working very hard to bring a modern website to tribes, tribal regulators and the public. We hope you like the new look, design and feel.

STAY TUNED—THE LAUNCH IS SOON!

Scroll down for a sneak peek at some of the new pages...

Regional Offices

The Commission provides Federal oversight to 425 tribally owned, operated or licensed gaming establishments operating in 28 states. The Commission maintains its headquarters in Washington, DC, and has seven regional offices located in Portland, Ore.; Sacramento, Calif.; Phoenix; St. Paul, Minn.; Tulsa, Okla.; Oklahoma City and Washington.

Portland Region | Sacramento Region | Phoenix Region | St. Paul Region | Tulsa Region
Oklahoma City Region | Washington DC Region

The NIGC Regional Offices are fundamental in fulfilling the mandates of the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act. The NIGC field staff maintains close working relationships with tribal governments and the tribal gaming community. Each Regional Office is led by a Region Director and is comprised of compliance officers, field investigators, auditors and administrative staff. Approximately half of the total employees of the NIGC are located in the seven regions to better assist tribes and tribal regulators.

This section of our website contains the laws of the United States related to Indian Gaming. It also includes regulations, bulletins, opinions and ordinances issued by the National Indian Gaming Commission.

Indian Gaming Regulatory Act

The Indian Gaming Regulatory Act was enacted by the United States Congress on October 17, 1988, to regulate the conduct of gaming on Indian Lands. IGRA establishes the NIGC and a regulatory structure for Indian gaming in the United States. More on IGRA

Johnson Act

The Johnson Act, as amended, generally prohibits the manufacture, possession, use, sale, or transportation of any "gambling device" in Indian Country, the District of Columbia, and possessions of the United States. About the Johnson Act

Commission Regulations

The Indian Gaming Regulatory Act authorizes the NIGC to promulgate regulations and guidelines to implement IGRA's provisions. The NIGC has promulgated regulations implementing numerous sections of IGRA. These regulations can be found here or in the Code of Federal Regulations at 25 C.F.R. Part 501 et seq.

Training & Technical Assistance

Training & Technical Assistance

Our Training and Technical Assistance (T&TA) provides tribes and tribal regulators with assistance in meeting federal requirements under the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act, improving the functioning of gaming operations and regulatory authorities, reaching desired outcomes, and promoting gaming integrity and regulatory compliance in Indian gaming.

The NIGC provides both onsite and offsite T&TA, which can be formal or informal and can be in the form of oral advice, written advisory opinions, bulletins, training courses, compliance reviews and an assortment of other forms that meet the needs of tribes and tribal regulators. Onsite assistance maybe one-time or could cover several weeks comprised of multiple visits; offsite assistance might consist, for example, refresher training, updates regarding regulations or training on a specific practical area. The NIGC has an open-door policy for making T&TA requests. Requesters may do any of the following to seek T&TA:

- Contact the region in which your gaming operation is located
- Submit an online technical assistance question
- Complete a T&TA Request Form
- Contact the National Training Manager at training@nigc.gov

Social Media

Connect with the National Indian Gaming Commission on social media. The NIGC uses a variety of social networking media like Twitter, Flickr, and blogs to stay connected with tribes, tribal regulators, the media and the public.

Facebook lets users create their own sets of "friends" with whom they can share brief updates, photos, links or other information. Similarly, NIGC's Facebook page offers users a place to follow NIGC updates and share information. Like us on Facebook

Twitter lets users subscribe to receive brief updates or "tweets" (a maximum 140 characters) from others whom they choose to "follow." NIGC tweets include news, links and updates. Follow us on Twitter

LinkedIn is a social network that allows professionals to create connections and share professional working information, find jobs, follow companies and post updates. Link-in with us on LinkedIn

The NIGC is launched a blog in conjunction with the launch of NIGC.gov redesign and uses the blog and discussion forums to expand the conversation about gaming integrity and regulatory compliance. Visit our Commission Blog
